Helping commercial lenders onboard their customers more efficiently and collect their key company and financial data via a single application

Aryza Acquire is a web-based app that allows your customers to easily share their key company data and financial information when applying for a commercial loan.

This product is aimed at SME lenders with the emphasis on gathering accurate information more efficiently and semi automating their underwriting decisions. It was designed to allow lenders to onboard their customers faster and provide them with the most holistic solution in the market. Its modular data design allows lenders to assess their applicants company structure, historic cashflow and liabilities quicker within one application.

- Allows lenders to onboard customers quicker without the need of requesting manual documentation
- Automates the collection of bank statements and management data
- Supports the digital transformation of financial institutions
- Gathers detailed data to gain a holistic view of an SME's key financial information within one application
- Reduces fraudulent applications
- Improves the assessment and decisioning.

Onboard new customers with an instant, accurate view of their finances

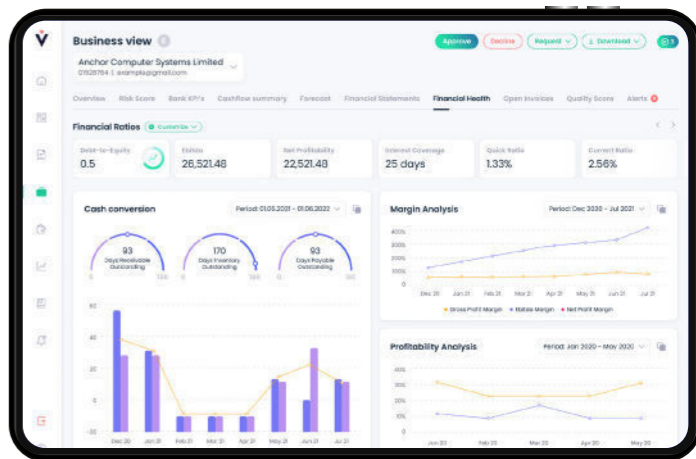

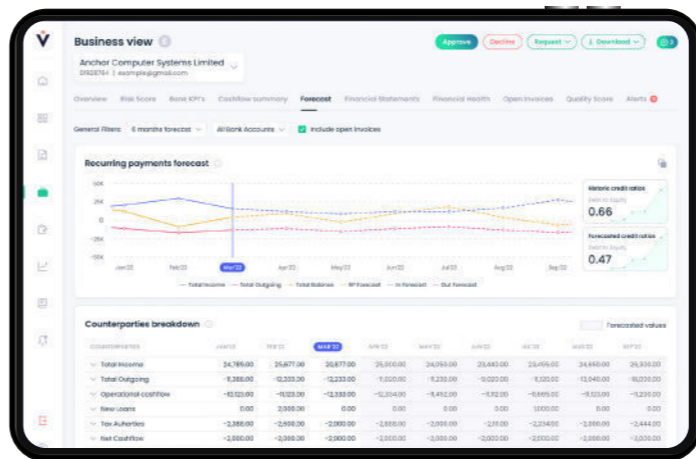

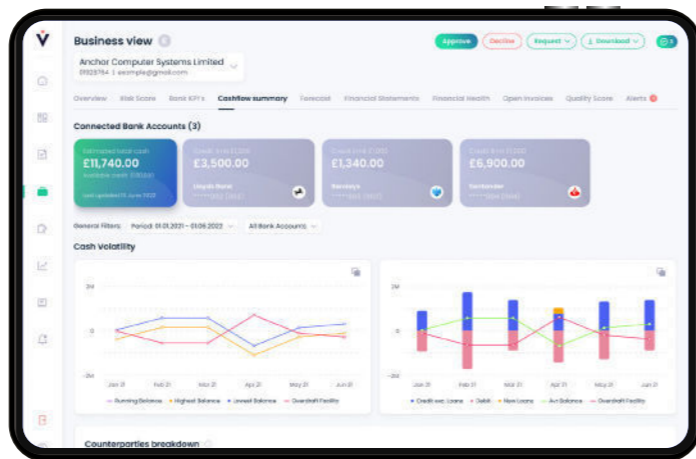

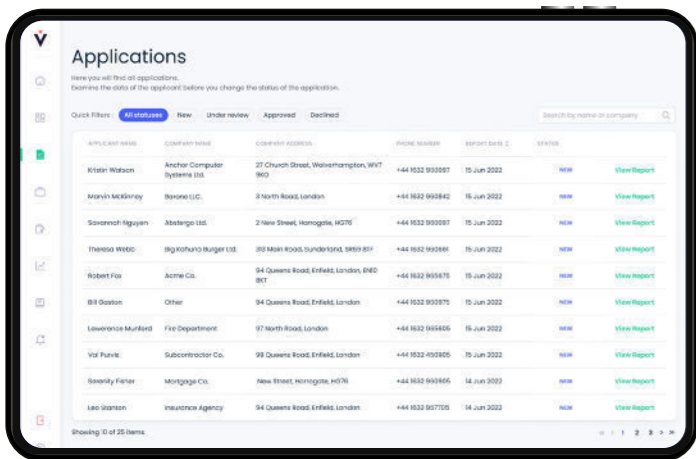

Aryza Acquire allows consumers to use open banking to populate their details within minutes. With automated decisioning, you can offer the appropriate loan products to your customers, based on their true affordability.

Aryza Acquire can be 'white-labelled' to reflect your brand and messaging and provide reassurance to your customers when they are applying for a loan. It uses open banking and credit bureau data, along with your chosen questions to provide an in-depth and accurate overview of the finances of a business.

It is simple for us to link Aryza Acquire with existing lead generation and marketing activity to add depth of information to all applicants, and to integrate your existing workflows and application processes into the system.

Automated rules-based decisioning then applies rules to the data and provides a decision system that presents the underwriter the best outcome for the loan applicant.

With Aryza Acquire for commercial lending, you can increase customer acquisitions and automate on-boarding processes and customer journeys

Whether you are using Aryza Loan Origination or your own origination platform, Aryza Acquire provides a holistic view of your customers' key financial information, within one application

You can easily see the status of their current bank accounts and get a clear forecast of their finances, so that you can make an informed decision

And by agreeing to share their data with you, your customers' save time and increase their chance of getting a loan.
